

THE SHOFAR

Temple Beth Shalom Florida, New York
September 2023 Elul / Tishri 5783/5784

From the Desk of Rabbi Rebecca P. Shinder

Chavayot - this will be the year of Experiences...

I hope that you all had a summer of refreshment, renewal, and reading! Whether you have or not, you have the opportunity to either keep it going or commit to not letting the chance to accomplish these things pass you by. How? Shabbat! As Reform Jews, we need not focus on the restrictions that “keeping Shabbat” can impose. Rather, we can use the time to hike or drive to see nature’s splendor, listen to a favorite podcast or musical score, and come to temple to connect with community and even ourselves.

But what does this necessarily have to do with the Hebrew word “chavaya” or the plural, chavayot? This commitment to experiences will be made manifest in our worship, mitzvah projects, and school (Beit Sefer.) The last Shabbat of each month will feature a shortened informal service in-the-round followed by a discussion. I write this article in advance of our inaugural chavaya on August 25th - that discussion centers on the social justice issues presented in the summer blockbusters known as Barbieheimer. The next Shabbat Chavaya will be September 29th. Watch for details and set aside the evening for wine and cheese, as well as community and conversation.

Perhaps the biggest chavaya of the year will take place on the Second Day of Rosh Hashana as an informal lakeside holiday experience. There will be more specifics in this volume, however, I want you to know that this idea is both for you and your family, as well as your friends and neighbors who may not feel comfortable with a service within the four walls of a sanctuary. The goal is for us to be in nature, that is to say for us to celebrate the creation of our world out IN the world. There will be a brief service with our “greatest hits” of Shabbat melodies, the sounding of Shofar, and a private moment for Tashlich - the custom of symbolically casting away any misdeeds done in the past year with the casting of bread into a moving body of water. There will be crafts and games for the kiddos and, of course, food for all.

This is a new experience for our community. I had a vision of this program and asked a great deal of our already overworked volunteers. I ask that if you have never stepped forward to volunteer before or haven’t in a while, that you offer to lend a hand to make this event a success. I believe that we have a chance to reach out to our “hidden yidden” (or unaffiliated Jewish neighbors) - in a way that could be of great impact. Write to tbs-ny@optonline.net and be a part of the success of this experience.

Another form of chavaya will be a part of Beit Sefer, our joint school with the Monroe Temple. Our opening experience will feature a guest artist who will explore the concept of bayit (home) through the creation of collages. There will be a box in our social hall for you to donate magazines you think would be useful for this project. We’ll recycle anything that is not used. This experience will be October 15th at TBS and learners of all ages are invited to participate. Our next chavaya will be with the creator of Movemeant and will feature study combined with music and dance.

Finally, chavayot will also come in the form of mitzvah projects. October 14th will be the Bat Mitzvah of Abigail Horowitz and we encourage all congregants, especially the students of Beit Sefer, to attend the 10AM service. In advance of this blessed event at 8AM that Saturday, we call upon our TBS mitzvah makers to volunteer with Marcia Mattheus at the Goshen Ecumenical Food Pantry for a Food Give Away.

In conclusion, I look forward to welcoming in 5784 with all of you. May this be a good year of health, learning, and chavayot. L’Shana Tova, Rabbi Shinder

- ◆ If a neighbor complains to you, do not engage, instead find a board member who will attempt to smooth any ruffled feathers. Let's ensure parking does not become a stressful situation!

It was “Barbie” meets “Oppenheimer” meets Rabbi Shinder for a unique erev Shabbat gathering Friday, August 25, at TBS.

More than two dozen people turned out to welcome rabbi back from her summer break and to partake in her first in a series of informal Service in the Round events.

The gathering was intimate and brought out a few newer faces along with the stalwarts. Rabbi offered everyone the opportunity to make a brief introduction, threaded through the service held in the social hall. As always Andy Hannes, who introduced himself as The Piano Man, provided musical guidance for our prayers.

After some serious schmoozing over the shared spread of snacks, challah, wine and coffee, we got down to the business of chatting about the social issues that had been brought out in this summer's duo of blockbuster films. Rabbi showed some clips and trailers from each, and as a group we discussed topics ranging from war to social responsibility; the patriarchy to the burdens of womanhood and boyhood; Antisemitism to blindness to the suffering of others. You may guess which movies elicited which conversations.

With this event's success, rabbi now plans to make it a monthly choice for Friday night services. Suggestions welcome for equally compelling topics of discussion.

CO-PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

What an exciting time.

Our discussions with Monroe Temple carry on. We had some great input from TBS congregants at our Town Hall meetings last month and are moving forward with finding a way to keep Reform Judaism vibrant in Orange County. Our partners at Monroe Temple are as passionate as we are about finding a way to bring our two families together as one; maintaining the best of both communities and being sensitive to the concerns on both sides. Our new Beit Sefer religious school is drawing attention from younger families around the county and we will soon have the largest, egalitarian, Jewish religious education program in the county!

Rabbi Shinder continues to bring new ideas, or "reforms", to our religious, programmatic, and social events, to help keep us connected and engaged. We'll have a fantastic reform of our 2nd day Rosh Hashanah service, which will take place at the beautiful Mountain Lake Park in Warwick (former site of the URJ Kutz Camp). Not only did Rabbi think outside the box for that one, she thought outside the building!!

Most of us don't like change very much, so I understand if these reforms make you anxious. Yet, as we discussed at our congregational meeting this spring, and at the Town Hall meetings last month, if we don't pivot the way we do things right now, our Little Shul That Can may not survive the next decade. So, we move forward with patience and care, to maintain a home for Reform Jewish life, at least into the next several decades.

One of the ways our community stays functional, is through the work of those of you who volunteer your time. Your passion for the community sustains us. So, thank you! Soon, we'll have more volunteers from the current Monroe Temple, so we'll be able to do even more events and programs. There's always opportunity to help out. If you see an event for which you may have time to assist, or you have an idea for something that you would like to see happen, please let me or Catherine know.

I look forward to seeing many of you at High Holy Day services and events, and at the combined TBS/Monroe events that will be coming this year. Let's welcome the impending change together, and help each other to build a sustainable future for the next generation. Yes, l'dor va'dor.

B'shalom, Wendy Cedar Co-president wendycedar@gmail.com

Speaking of volunteering, between the High Holy Days and the start of Beit Sefer, we have a lot of happenings and very few hands to make them work. Below is a list of upcoming events, with a partial list of items for which we need help. Please let me know what you are able to help with; before, or during each event. Even any seemingly small piece you can commit to will be a great help.

9/9 - Slichot at TBS, 8pm. In addition to the short service, we will be doing the important work of changing over the prayer books from the regular Shabbat books to the HHD books. We need hands.

9/16 - Rosh Hashanah Day 1: We need help with the luncheon; shopping, prepping platters, setting tables, other things TBD

9/17 - Rosh Hashanah Day 2: At Mountain Lake Park (former Kutz Camp): Shopping (TBS can reimburse), pick up/delivery of food items, set up at the park, clean up.

9/25 - Break-the-fast: Shopping, prepping platters, set up, clean up

Thanks in advance...
